BALL-UP

IN BASEBALL ARRANGEMENTS
THROWS POST-SERIES GAMES WITH FRANKFORT INSTEAD OF
PORTSMOUTH—LEXINGTON OUT
THREE BY PROTEST.

At a meeting of the directors of the Ohio State League held in the Havlin Hotel, Cincinnati, Sunday, President Carr announced that the games in which Pitcher Turner participated in Lexington were forfeited, acting under Article 26, Section 3, of the Rules of the National Association.

President Carr stated that he regretted to take this step but under the rule he could not do otherwise, as the law was plainly violated by Lexington even after he had warned them not to do so.

This takes three games away from Lexington, two going to Ironton and the other to Frankfort.

President Russell of the Maysville team was present at the meeting and shown the agreement entered into at Huntington whereby the post-series games were to be played between the teams finishing first and second in the last series.

At this writing, due to the closeness of the race, it is impossible to determine who will contest with "Our Boys" for post-season honors, but one thing is sure—we have won the last series with the best team that ever represented old Maysville. So get ready for the "world's series" and go out and root. The first game will be probably played here Wednesday. The general admission will be 25 cents and the grand stand 25 cents.

Thomas Russell, George Barbour, John McAuliffe, Kelly Luman and Claude Watkins left this morning for Portsmouth where they will hold a meeting with the officials of the Portsmouth baseball club to see if they can remedy the present post-series situation, in which Maysville is to play Frankfort for the pennant instead of Portsmouth, the winner of the first half of the season. The present arrangement has caused quite a disturbance among the fans who wish to see the Colonels and Cobblers play for the pennant.

INJURED AT DAM.

KENTUCKY CONFERENCE

FOURTH DAY'S SESSION WAS BUSY ONE, MANY REPORTS BE-ING HEARD.

At the fourth day's session of the Kentucky conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session at Middlesboro, the early part of the morning was taken up with an address by Rev. S. Gordon. At 10:30 o'clock the order of the day called for the report of the Committee on Temperance, but the order was suspended to allow the remainder of the pastors to make their report.

When the name of Rev. W. M. Britt, of Burnside, Ky., was called, he arose and said that to relieve the conference of any further embarrassment, and feeling that he was no longer in honor bound by a pledge he had previously made, he wished to present his resignation to the conference. He said that he deeply regretted having to take this action, but was in honor bound so to do. The Rev. Mr. Britt's name was before the conference on charges of preaching a doctrine contrary to the doctrines of the church. He had been requested to make a pledge that he would not again offend, but this he refused to do. After the resignation had been accepted Presiding Elder E. G. B. Mann paid a high tribute to the character of the Rev. Mr. Britt, saying that he knew of no man more true and loyal to his convictions and that he in common with a large per cent of the members of the conference deeply regretted the retiring of the pastor from the Methodist ministry.

Rev. E. S. Powell, of the Methodist Orphans' Home, presented his report. The home is located at Fifth and York streets, Louisville, and is the property of the Louisville and Kentucky Conferences. It was organized sixty years ago and the presidents during this time have been J. S. Lithgow, W. C. Kendrick, H. Wrigman and W. N. Little. The home has taken in many hundreds of motherless children and found good homes for hundreds more. Many of these children have become prominent men and women throughout the United States.

DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERATE ACY.

The Daughters of the Confederacy will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday, September 7, at the home of Mrs. George Sulser on Limestone street. Business of importance, election of officers.

A through train from Chicago to Charleston, S. C., running over the recently completed Clinchfield route, is said to be planned by the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad at an early date. It is known that the officials of the road have taken up the question of passenger service through the Clinchfield and that the Chicago-Charleston train is to be one of the results of their deliberations.

By a unanimous vote the cause of woman's suffrage was espoused Saturday morning by the members of the Kentucky annual Methodist conference. Rev. G. W. Bunton introduced a resolution pledging the support of the conference to the cause and calling upon the Legislature to pass a law favorable to the suffrage of women.

When the vote was taken on the resolution every member of the conference signified the affirmative by rising to his feet amid applause. The ministers of the conference will be asked to deliver an address at least once a year advocating the cause of suffrage.

Rev. E. R. Overly, formerly pastor of the Third Street M. E. church, but now pastor of the M. E. church at Barboursville, is spoken of as the next district superintendent for this district.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

ESPONSED BY DELEGATES TO
GENERAL CONFERENCE IN COV-INGTON AT SATURDAY'S SESSION
—J. H. RICHARDSON, OF THIS CITY, ELECTED AS LAY MEMBER OF THE CONFERENCE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Rev. E. L. Shepard, of Louisville, was elected as a delegate to the general conference which convenes at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., on the tenth ballot at the Saturday morning session of the Kentucky annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at Covington. He received thirty-five votes. With Rev. F. W. Harrop, of Latonia, Rev. Shepard will go the general conference as the two accredited delegates from the Kentucky conference. Rev. Harrop was elected Friday on the fourth ballot.

On motion of Rev. G. W. Bunton it was decided to take a vote for the election of the two reserve delegates, the two receiving the highest number of votes to be declared elected. A ballot was taken and it resulted in the election of Rev. O. J. Ragan and J. L. Melear, of Lexington, the former district superintendent of the Lexington district and the latter a pastor of a church in Lexington. A large number of ministers received complimentary votes both for delegates and reserve delegates.

F. T. Kelly, of Russell, Ky.; E. P. Hall, of Bellevue; F. W. Harrop, of Barboursville, were elected ministerial members of the conference Board of Education. J. G. Black, candidate for Lieutenant Governor on the Democratic ticket, and J. H. Richardson, of this city, were elected as lay members of the conference Board of Education.

Bishop Leete delivered an address to the class of ministers who were elected to full membership in the conference. The address was exceedingly impressive. The bishop then proceeded to question the class regarding their duties.

The afternoon session was devoted to conference business of a routine nature.

The anniversary Freedmen's Aid society, with Rev. E. P. Hall presiding, held a session in the evening. An address was delivered by Rev. P. J. McVeety, D. D.

The anniversary Board of Education also held a meeting, with Rev. J. H. Howes presiding, and the speaker was Rev. Frederick W. Illyson, D. D.

By a unanimous vote the cause of woman's suffrage was espoused Saturday morning by the members of the Kentucky annual Methodist conference. Rev. G. W. Bunton introduced a resolution pledging the support of the conference to the cause and calling upon the Legislature to pass a law favorable to the suffrage of women.

When the vote was taken on the resolution every member of the conference signified the affirmative by rising to his feet amid applause. The ministers of the conference will be asked to deliver an address at least once a year advocating the cause of suffrage.

Rev. E. R. Overly, formerly pastor of the Third Street M. E. church, but now pastor of the M. E. church at Barboursville, is spoken of as the next district superintendent for this district.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Lucille Hall vs. D. A. Hall is the style of a suit entered in the office of Circuit Clerk Key for divorce. The plaintiff in the petition states that she was married to the defendant in the state of Ohio in 1909, and that they had lived in this state as man and wife for five years. She also states that for the past six months the defendants have treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner. The petition states that they have one child, Anna Hall, 2 years of age, of whom she asks the custody, and $5,000 alimony for the support of herself and the child.

Today being the first Monday in the month, is County Court day. The regular monthly meeting of City Council will also be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Council Chamber.

Dr. A. O. Taylor, of this city, was elected one of the vice presidents at the meeting last week of the C. & O. railway surgeons, in session at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mrs. Homer D. White and son, Kenneth, of Indianapolis, Ind., arrived Sunday night for a visit to her uncle, Mr. Charles Helmer, of West Second street.

Mr. Pickett McClanahan, of Cincinnati, is home to spend Labor Day holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. McClanahan, of West Second street.

Miss Frances Ayres, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. McClanahan, of West Second street.

Mr. Boone Ingalls, of Carlisle, was a business visitor Saturday.

CUTTER EXPLODES

HIGH-PRESSURE MACHINE BLOWS
TO PIECES SATURDAY AT FARM OF HENRY GALLENSTEIN.

Saturday a cutter belonging to Warner & Henderson, of the county, blew to pieces at the farm of Mr. Henry Gallenstein, of the county, near Washington. The machine was being used in filling a silo and was being worked at a very high rate of speed and without a warning the machine exploded, blowing fragments everywhere.

One of the heavy iron fragments was blown into the air to a great height and when it came down it lodged itself in the ground so firmly that the combined efforts of four men could not budge it. Another part of the machine was thrown through a barn forty feet away from the scene, while another fragment knocked off a large cog wheel on an engine nearby.

There were several persons standing near the cutter when the accident occurred, but luckily all escaped injury. A team of horses was hit by the flying bits of iron and started to run away but were captured. The cutter after the explosion could be placed in a barrel, as it was blown into such small bits.

BURIED HERE.

MINSK.

Washington, D. C.—Minsk, following Riga and Duenaburg, is the third most important city toward which German forces are moving, and one of the very few cities of any consequence in west Russia. The following description of Minsk is contained in today's National Geographic Society war primer:

"Warsaw, Minsk, Smoleansk, Moscow are the important points along the great eastern railway whose line beyond Brest Litovsk the Teutonic armies are endeavoring to dominate. There is little value in the 220-mile stretch of country between Brest Litovsk and Minsk, in the northeast, but beyond the latter city the industrial and agricultural development of the country become rapidly more significant."

"Large manufactures of leather, agricultural machinery and tobacco are produced in Minsk, and these industries are of quite recent growth. The commerce of the city is of considerable importance, and is mostly in grains, potatoes, leather and products from the vast surrounding forests. Without the wonderful railway advantages enjoyed by most Russian cities, Minsk owes its increase in prosperity and significance entirely to the railroads. Before its connection east and west north and south by rail lines, the town was of no standing and very poor."

Minsk lies about 110 miles southeast of Dunaburg, and about 100 miles east-southeast of Vilna. It is 460 miles southwest of Moscow by rail. The city is situated on the Svislotch, a tributary of the Berezina, and upon the junction of the Warsaw-Moscow and the Libau-Kharkov railways. The region around is hilly and well-wooded. The town is old, haphazardly built, and houses a population of 95,000. About one-third of the inhabitants are Jews, and most of them are very poor."

NEW FREIGHT RECORD MADE BY CHESEPEAKE & OHIO BY ITS COAL SHIPMENTS.

The August coal loadings of the Chesapeake & Ohio totaled 2,420,630 tons, as against 2,232,305 tons in July, 1915, and 2,216,450 tons in August, 1914, and 2,061,250 tons in July, 1914. For July and August, 1915, the banner coal-loading months of the year, coal loading totaled 4,652,985 tons, against 4,277,710 tons for the same two months in 1914.

Somewhat of the manner in which coal loading on the C. & O. has increased in the last twelve years is shown by figures secured from the general superintendent's office showing the marks for each fiscal year ending July 30: 1904 6,711,825; 1911 17,058,310; 1912, 19,037,650; 1913 18,092,000; 1914 20,802,100; 1915 22,763,740. At the present rate of increase the total tonnage for the fiscal year current will reach the 25,000,000 mark.

DUMA RIVER.

Washington, D. C.—European Russia is over-rich in water resources, and her rivers, lakes and marshes have taken the place of mountain systems in her scheme of defense toward the west. Each important stand of the Muscovite armies against the present invasion of the Teutonic forces has been made along a waterway. Teutonic arms have had to win successively passes of the Wartha, the San, the upper Dalester, the Vistula, the Narew, the Niemen and the Bug, and now the Russians are reported to be regrouping on the line of the Pinsk marshes and the Duna, or the southern Dvina river. The National Geographic Society in its statement today gives the following description of the Dvina, which has taken on a character of great military interest as the immediate barrier to German advance on Petrograd:

"The Duna river is now filling the part that the Vistula river filled throughout the first part of the war, that the Bug filled following the fall of Warsaw and Ivangorod, and the powerful fortress at Dunaburg is now of the importance of Novo Georgievsk on the contested Vistula line or Brest Litovsk on a contested line of the Bug. The Duna cuts across the paths leading to the north and Petrograd and into the north-central interior, where are the rich industrial cities, Moscow, Tver, Rjef. While the Courland is rich the real resources of Russia begin to the west of this third Russian line.

"The Duna has its source in a small lake-cluster, about 800 feet above sea level, in the government of Tver. It rises in the same highland where two of the mightiest rivers of Russia begin their courses—the Daleper, which flows to the south and empties at Kherson into the Black Sea, and the Volga, which flows southeast and empties into the Caspian. The sources of the Volga, the rivers around whose course a Russian folk evolved and a Russian power grew, lie in the Valdai hills, a few miles north of the lakes that give rise to the River Duna. The sources of the Daleper approach near to the Duna on the south.

"The river sweeps in a flat arc, southwest-northwest, to its mouth on the Gulf of Riga. It takes up the drainage of an area of 32,960 square miles, and is a commercial way of first importance in western Russia. Riga, situated ten miles from its mouth, is one of Russia's greatest port cities, and a significant part of the products that its merchants assemble are brought down the Duna. The large ocean-going steamers can ascend only to Riga, but river boats ply as far as Vitebsk. Larger river boats navigate between Dunaburg and Riga, a distance of 134 miles.

"The river is 650 miles long. Its upper course lies through a broken country, giving rise to many irregularities in its bed. In its lower course it has an average depth of about 30 feet and an average breadth of 1,400 feet. During the time of the spring floods these measurements increase largely. The Duna then often piles up fifteen feet above its usual level and spreads out for a width of more than a mile. The river is free from ice on an average of 240 days in the year.

"It is estimated that more than 2,000,000 tons of freight are transported over the Duna each year. Among its tributaries, the Mezha, Usvyat, Kasplya, Ulla, Disna and Bolderaa are also navigable.

The Beresia canal connects the Duna with the Daleper, thus giving a freight route by water from the Baltic Sea, across Europe, to the Black Sea. As is the general case with Russian rivers, the Duna abounds in fish, a very delicate species of salmon being caught in its waters."

CLOTHING NO CHEAPER UNDER DEMOCRATIC TARIFF.

Washington, D. C.—(Special Correspondence)—In the United States Senate on June 5, 1914, during a discussion on the results of the Underwood tariff bill, a colloquy was held between two leading Senators as to whether the retail price of men's clothing has been reduced as a result of the reduced tariff on wool. In response to the statement by the Republican Senator that he had been unable to obtain any reduction in his tailor-made clothes, the Democratic Senator said:

"If the Senator will just join the holy army of men that God created with such perfection of physical form that they may be fitted at a ready-made clothing store, the Senator will find that goods are cheaper."

As this statement was made in Washington and therefore evidently referred to Washington prices, your correspondent at the capital has made an investigation. Five prominent dealers in standard makes of men's clothing—names that have a national reputation—were asked if there had been any reduction in the price of ready-made men's clothing in the last three years.

They all said that they had to pay as much now for their clothing as before the Underwood tariff bill went into effect, house had to charge the consumer as much as before. They all said that the customer pays at least as much now for his ready-made clothing as he did three years ago.

One dealer said that the cloth used now is no better than that used before the tariff reduction; one said that the cloth is a little better, he thought. Another said that the cloth is no better, but that the reduction in tariff is made up for by a little better workmanship, such as tailoring and finishing. Two said that the cloth is about the same now as then in the $20 and $25 suits and that the clothes for which these prices are paid today will not give one bit better satisfaction or better service than suits bought at the same prices before the Underwood tariff became effective.

The fifth dealer said that he is doing a business of over $100,000 annually in a standard brand of clothing and that, while the prices have not been lowered, he thought the cloth used inferior now because of the scarcity of wool. Many of the wool growers, anticipating the tariff reductions had sold their sheep and many of the sheep have been used for mutton, which has decreased the number of sheep by about nine million head. All but one of the dealers said that they had much more money to spend before the Democratic tariff became effective.

The cloth used in a suit of clothes costing at retail $40 or $50 does not cost over $6, and very probably it costs less. There is hardly a cloth used which costs over $1 per yard, especially of the kind used in the average price suit retailing from $20 to $25. Suppose the price of this cloth were reduced 10 per cent, which would be a very great reduction, this could not reduce the retail price of the suit more than 35 cents. With this reduction, a $25 suit could be sold at $24.65 if the consumer were given full benefit. But our investigation has shown that there has been no actual reduction.

The claim of the Democratic Senator, quoted above, is therefore wide of the mark and must have been made merely for political effect. The Underwood tariff bill has utterly failed in its purpose with respect to this commodity and there is no doubt that the same test may be successfully applied to other necessities.

While the people of this country want a tariff commission, they also want the law for its establishment very carefully drawn. They recognize that at present practically all the interstate business of the country is under the espionage of twenty-one men, the aggregate number of the Interstate and Trade Commissions, and the Federal Reserve Board, thus planning in the hands of eleven men, a majority, the power to determine questions of vital importance to the welfare of the whole nation. This is too centralized government and must ultimately result in destruction of popular and representative government.

G. O. P. VICTORY IS CERTAIN, ORATORS SAY.

Columbus, O., September 6.—Success attended the experiment launched from Tuscarawas county for a gathering of Republican party workers at the state fair last week.

Several hundred of them attended the luncheon given at a downtown hotel under the auspices of the new Republican state weekly paper and heard addresses from Governor Willis, State Chairman Harry M. Daugherty, United States Senator Warren G. Harding, former United States Senator Charles Dick, former Congressman Ralph D. Cole and Judge D. Woodmasee, of Cincinnati.

So pleased were the promoters of the enterprise that a resolution was adopted to make the function a permanent one and a committee was named to organize the reunion next year.

Occasion was taken by all of the orators to predict a Republican victory next year and most of them added that the President would come from Ohio. But none named him specifically. However, as an expert in organizing for political battles, General Dick, in a practical way, said that in the country at large no one towering name led the rest and that Ohio stood no better than the other states in this respect.

Says Opportunities Are Equal.

The Republicans here had an equal opportunity with those of other states and not a better one, he said. All agreed, though the fight was to be won on a protective tariff, rehabilitation of the merchant marine, extension of national defenses platform and Governor Willis went so far as to assert with vehemence that the candidate would have to stand with both feet thereon.

Governor Willis also seized the opportunity to defend his administration against the charges that have been accumulating since he assumed control and he roused the workers by asserting that his demolition of the partisan machine left by his predecessor would not be stopped or prevented by certain "boiler-cham-thous" persons who pretended to be Republicans while aiding the Democrats.

The dinner room rang with cheers when former Congressman Cole deplored the destruction of the Cox organization and predicted that the governor would soon hurl another thunderbolt that would send it to the scrap heap.

The same demonstrative friendliness attended the Governor's appeal to the workers to stand by the Republican Congressional gerrymander bill and against the arrangement invoked by the Democratic state committee.

AVIATOR RESCUES COMRADE, BEHIND FOE'S LINES.

Paris, September 6.—Adjutant Berlin, of the French aviation corps, has been cited in the orders of the day and awarded the decoration of Legion of Honor for alighting behind the German lines and bringing back in safety Adjutant Boyer, who was compelled to set fire to his machine as the result of an accident.

Both aviators were engaged in reconnoitering expeditions in the same direction. Berlin's landing point was about four miles beyond that of Boyer. On returning after executing his mission Berlin saw Boyer's machine in flames. He landed in the face of a heavy fire, picked up his comrade and flew back to the French lines with a fragment of a shell in his thigh.

The aeroplane was struck in ninety-eight places by bullets and pieces of shrapnel.

WASHINGTON THEATER

A man is never sure a man loves her until he tells her he doesn't.

FREE SHIPMENT OF GOODS CONTRACTED FOR PREVIOUS TO MARCH 1 NOT ALLOWED, SAYS DEPARTMENT.

Washington, September 6.—Conflicts now in progress between Great Britain and France over the general subject of trade out of neutral European ports are expected to result in a definite announcement of conditions under which Great Britain will authorize relaxations of its orders in council to permit the shipment of German or Austrian made goods to the United States.

A statement issued by the State Department revealed that Ambassador Page at London had been informed of these conferences and told that an answer might be expected at a later date to his informal inquiry as to what treatment would be accorded applications from shipment permits made through the foreign trade advisers as unofficial representatives of Americans owning millions of dollars worth of merchandise now held up at Rotterdam. The Department's statement follows:

“Many importers are laboring under a mistaken impression in regard to Great Britain's attitude touching the bringing forward of goods of German origin. They seem to believe that goods contracted for previous to March 1 with legal liability of the payment are now freely coming forward and that applications will be received by the British embassy at this capital. This is an error.

The American consul general at London informed the department that attorneys on the ground were obtaining permits for such goods upon certain conditions which were not specifically stated. Ambassador Page was immediately instructed to take up the matter informally with the British foreign office and to inquire through what channels applications for permits were being received and what treatment would be accorded applications made through the foreign trade advisers as unofficial representatives of the American owners as in cases prior to June 15.

A cablegram was received September 1 from Ambassador Page reporting in effect that the British government had replied that the questions propounded are connected with the general question of shipments from neutral ports now under discussion about which the French government is being consulted, and that an answer might be expected at a later date.

The department is now sending a cablegram to the Ambassador stating that the American importers not represented by private attorneys in London feel that they should receive notice of any relaxation of the application of the British order in council in regard to goods owned by them in Rotterdam, and are now entitled to full information as to whether their applications would be received in London or by the British embassy here through the unofficial aid of the foreign trade advisers.”

IN MARKET FOR ARMS.

Los Angeles, Cal., September 6.—Colonel J. J. Obregon, brother of General Alvaro Obregon, the Carranza military chief; Arturo Gonzales and a number of other Mexicans are here to purchase $100,000 worth of arms and ammunition for the use of Carranza forces now operating in the states of Sinaloa and Sonora.

ROUTE OF JACKSON HIGHWAY WILL BE SELECTED BY PERMANENT ORGANIZATION TO BE PERFECTED AT NASHVILLE MEETING.

Louisville, Ky., September 6.—The program for the establishment of the Jackson Highway Association on a permanent basis at a big meeting of good roads enthusiasts at Nashville, September 23 and 24, has been mapped out by the vice presidents of the temporary organization in conference at the country home of Peter Lee, at Her-ton.

More than twenty prominent men, representing half a dozen states, attended the meeting, and from their reports on the condition of roads and the formation of organizations for the purpose of including certain territory in the official highway, which will extend from Buffalo on the east and Chicago on the north to New Orleans on the south, the Nashville gathering will be an animated affair.

At 10 o'clock in the morning of the first day of the conference Governor Rye will deliver the address of welcome to the delegates on behalf of the state of Tennessee. Mayor Ewing, of Nashville, will greet the visitors on behalf of the city, and Peter Lee Atherton, temporary president, will respond for the delegates. These formalities will be followed by reports of committees showing what has been accomplished to date by the temporary organization.

Plans for the permanent organization, including constitution and by-laws and future policies of the organization will be reported to the convention in the afternoon. The route will be selected by the organization in the morning of the second day.

HIGHEST HONOR CONFERRED.

Berlin, September 6.—Emperor William has conferred upon Field Marshal Von Mackensen the order of the Black Eagle, the highest decoration within the emperor's gift, the Overseas News Agency announces.

Mr. E. S. Conner, of Mt. Sterling, was in this city Friday on business.

DICTATORSHIP DESTRUCTIVE.

Prior to his election, Woodrow Wilson posed as an ardent advocate of popular government and decried usurpation of legislative power by the executive. Since his inauguration as President every executive action has been along the line of centralization of power and establishment of executive dictatorship, even to the extent of assuming the sole right of initiating and directing legislation.

Continuation of this policy inevitably means destruction of popular and representative government, resulting in Congress becoming merely an echo of the White House, and an instrument for passing appropriation bills and delegating legislative and veto powers to such bureaus, departments and commissions as the President may direct. The state is being rapidly absorbed by the President.

The situation in Europe today, where the people of all the leading nations have been involved in war by the action of their executives should demonstrate to every thoughtful man the danger and menace of embodying the state in any individual. There is more wisdom and greater national safety in the well considered judgment of Congress composed of 531 men than in the judgment of any one man who ever lived or ever will live. The men who constitute Congress were chosen by the people to make our laws and shape our national policies. The President was chosen to advise Congress by message and to execute the laws Congress may enact.

Had President Wilson been a real advocate of popular government, he would have called Congress into extraordinary session months ago and recommended by message the raising of such funds as Congress might find necessary for an adequate navy and army, especially for submarines and munitions for defense. Had he done this, there would have been slight probability of the occurrence of the Lusitania and Arable incidents or the embargo upon American cotton.

Under the policy of executive dictatorship, conducted either personally or through the agency of bureaus, departments and commissions, individual initiative is being rapidly crushed out in this country. Private enterprise not only suffers the ordinary difficulties of competition and misfortune, but labors under the handicap of intermittent and uncertain regulation by men who perhaps were never able to conduct a successful enterprise of their own.

Dictatorship in national government has led us to the verge of national humiliation. Dictatorship over private enterprise has almost crushed out individual initiative. Unless this movement is soon checked, it must lead to paternalism, dry rot and ultimate dissolution.

HIGHER RAIL RATE MAY LEAD TO REVIVAL OF COAL SHIPMENT BY WATER.

Hickman, Ky., September 6.—The rate on coal from all mines on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad into Hickman has been raised from $1.20 to $1.50, becoming effective October 1. An attempt was made to make this raise from $1.20 to $1.50 effective on January 1 of this year, but an appeal was made to the Interstate Commerce Commission and the rates were held up until March 1, until hearings could be had on same.

On March 1 the rates were held up until August, and the matter has now been definitely settled and the new rates will go into effect.

Coal years ago was handled here almost altogether via the river, and the raising of these rates may mean the revival of this river business.

SERBIA ACCEPTS ENTENTE'S PROPOSALS.

Athens, September 6.—It has been announced here that Serbia has accepted in principle the quadruple entente's proposals for territorial concessions to Bulgaria, with the reservation that the new Serbian frontier remain in contact with Greece in some part. The Greek chamber will adjourn until October 14.

COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES.

Washington, D. C.—Facts about all sorts of organizations which bear a vital relation to the business activities of the country are presented in compact form in the directory of “Commercial Organizations of the United States,” a new edition of which has been issued by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce. The previous volume was prepared in 1913, and all the data embraced in that publication were made to contribute toward the breadth and completeness of the new directory which, nevertheless, has been compiled from actual returns received from various authentic sources within the reach of the bureau. Dependence was not placed entirely on the information given by trade organizations in response to circulars sent out from Washington, but valuable assistance was afforded by the Postoffice Department, through the postmasters, who reported upon commercial organizations in their respective sections.

The result is the most complete list of organizations directly related to the commercial life of the country that has ever been issued. The first edition was widely circulated in the United States and copies were also in use in foreign countries in all parts of the world. With a complete revision the book is expected to be still more valuable to business men and to those who wish to reach business men in the larger groups that are here represented.

In the compilation the organizations have been divided into three classes—interstate, national and international—in one; state and territorial in the second; strictly local associations in the third. The first class mentioned are listed both alphabetically and by trade classifications, the others are grouped according to the states in which they are located.

In addition to data relating to dues, income, number of members and date of annual meeting, the field of service and special activities of the respective local organizations are shown as far as practicable by the use of symbols.

Copies of the publication may be obtained at 15 cents each from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C. or from the branch offices of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

YOUTHFUL AMERICANS ENLIST IN BRITISH ARMY—FIVE HUNDRED ARE DISCHARGED.

Washington, September 6.—More than 500 American boys under 18 years old, have been discharged so far from the British army upon requests from the State Department. Most of these boys went to Canada and misrepresented their ages to recruiting officers.

Peter Dougal, of Lambert, Minn., after having been discharged once upon the application of the State Department escaped from his parents and re-enlisted. He was released again only to take passage on the Arabic and escape death when that liner was sunk by a submarine.

The Walsh twins, of Boston, though only 15 years old, also managed to enlist twice and the last time were found on Salisbury Plain, just about to be embarked for France.

Lexington Leader: President Wilson said in his speech at Indianapolis that he did not take counsel from the press, or form his conclusions from advice thus voluntarily proffered. Others have done this same thing, but so far history records no instance where such a one did not find his bark founeder sooner or later on the shoals of misinformation. It has been our opinion from the outset that President Wilson, glaringly deficient in his ability to form a correct estimate of men, has been handicapped by the reliance which he has placed in those from whom he has sought advice, and that these in turn have not at all times dealt fairly with him in the advice given. The half-halting, never-maturing attitude of the President toward Mexico has been wholly at variance with his attitude toward every other problem that has confronted him. In this attitude, viewed from without the hedged-about coterie that encircles him, should the occasion of inquiring concern, need the President indulge in the slightest peevishness on that account, for it comes at his own invitation.

CONTESTANTS ENTER

LAST LAP OF PRIZE RACE—FINAL WEEK OF MOST LIBERAL CAMPAIGN EVER HELD IN NORTHEASTERN KENTUCKY OPENS TODAY.

Excitement in Both Districts At Fever Heat—All Workers Striving To Make Strong Finish.

With every contestant lining up her forces and preparing for the final dash to the victory, the greatest newspaper contest ever conducted in this part of the state of Kentucky has developed into a matter of hours. But six days of the contest remain and the prizes will then become the property of twenty of the most popular young women of this section of Kentucky. All indications point to a furious finish, and effort now is worth so much more than it possibly can be again, that even the seconds remaining have an estimable value. Throughout these final days that are left the battle of ballots will wage at rapid rate and not only in Maysville, but people throughout the state and places outside are interested in the result. This intense interest which has now reached the fever heat mark is caused not only because of the many popular and ambitious young women entered, but also because of the magnificent prizes which are so soon to be awarded.

With such a short time remaining, practically every contestant realizes the great value and importance of her time and is determined to do her very best before the finish arrives. Now is the time when your efforts will really count and now is the time you want to work as you never worked before for the prizes are of such magnificence that to forego the opportunity to win when they might be yours for so little effort, would be a crime.

Winning of Prizes.

Of course, you all realize that it is necessary to get the votes in order to win, and win is what you want to do without doubt. Of course, also, there is not much use of advising anybody against the practices of holding out votes and attempting to deceive competitors by a show of indifference. This is a matter for the contestant to decide herself.

Necessarily of Hard Effort Now.

During these few short days of the contest that remain it is essential that every contestant who expects to be a winner—and every one wants to be a member of that class—gets out and puts forth her utmost effort in securing subscriptions. Take over your field as though with a fine-tooth comb to make sure that nothing in the line of subscriptions has escaped you. Begin today and route out for yourself a list of places to be visited each day until the close. Make use of the telephone, letter or any other legitimate means of securing these necessary winning adjuncts. Without them you can not hope to finish at the top, but by earnest work during the few days that remain you may not only surprise yourself, but destroy the illusion of some of your competitors who have visions of receiving one of the two automobiles. Yours is the chance—the opportunity is too great and of too far reaching value to be allowed to slip away without some effort on your part to stop it—and it is up to you to make the most of it. It won't do you a bit of good, and you know it, to have many subscriptions in prospect if you fail to get them in before the race ends and some one else, a little more enterprising than yourself, walks off with the particular prize upon which you had set your heart.

SLIGHT WRECK ON C. & O.

Sunday evening a freight train eastbound on the C. & O. met with a slight accident. When about the Maysville Cotton Mills the rear truck on one of the coal cars got off the track and dragged along for several hundred yards. The train was stopped at the foot of Wall street, where the truck was placed in position and after other repairs the train proceeded on its way.

POLICE COURT.

In Police Court Saturday Will Short was handed the fine of $6.50 for drunkenness.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith and little daughter, Roberta, returned to their home in Norwood, O., after visiting their parents and other relatives.
